To Whom It May concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Dalcione Reis, a former Mathematics teacher in the Everett Public Schools.

I have had the pleasure of knowing Ms. Reis since August of 2003. Ms. Reis is a true professional in all sense of the word. She arrives early to work, is always on her duty posts, and often stays late into the afternoon helping struggling students. Her strongest skills are her interpersonal communication skills. As a result of her dedication to the job, she has developed a great rapport with the students, teachers, parents and the administration of the Everett Public Schools

She brings a vast amount of enthusiasm to her position and she has used that enthusiasm to get involved in various school activities other than just teaching. For the last she ran the school-wide talent show which donated money to various charities. Thus, she was willing to get involved with the students in a non-structured environment.

Ms. Reis is a stern, no non-sense type of teacher in the classroom. She prepares thorough lesson plans for the students each day and she expects her students to complete these lessons. However, if a student is struggling with one of her lesson plans, she is willing to help them master the task no matter how long it takes. Thus, Ms. Reis has made a positive educational impact on the education of her students at Everett High School.

She has terrific classroom management skills and a variety of teaching strategies which keep the students focused and highly motivated to learn. You can really tell that she loves what she is doing.

As a result of her efforts in educating the students at the middle school level and Everett High School, and her motivation and enthusiasm for almost everything, I have no doubt that Ms. Reis would be a great asset to your school system. If you have any further questions please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Charles Obremski
